By creating beautiful women, God gives a message to us men: Hey man! Be creative!

The beauty of a person, whether a man or a woman, without a beautiful and pure and humanistic interior is devoid of creativity.

By creating different human beings, God gives us the right to choose the way of life.

Of course, people who make the living environment unsafe and dangerous for others will get their punishment, but it is good to choose the right way so as not to cause material, human and spiritual costs to the society.

The point is simple: Before taking any action in any field, think a little about whether it will have results or consequences. This world is a temporary place for us humans. So instead of saying: oh what's the point, we live for a short time and then it's all over so let's choose an epicurean model of life, think and say:

precisely because this time is short so let's Let's use it well and record our good name so that we become eternal.

Even if everything ends with our death, why should we not live systematically? Just like plants and animals. We humans are the only creatures who do not live in a systematic way due to free will in action.

Therefore, beauty is in thinking right and doing right and sharing right ways with others.

Good luck!
