

The witness must be fair!

Written by Azad Karimi

South Africa's complaint against Israel in the name of "suspect of genocide" is only a political exploitation of quantitatively imposed conditions and the supporters of the Ajam-Arab in the Muslim countries of Iran and Qatar and their ilk, which until a few years ago, the kings and their rulers for They relied on big countries like the United Kingdom, France and Russia to maintain their sovereignty.

I didn't mention the name of the United States because after the Second World War, this country entered the international equation as a superpower.

The United States entry into these equations was from East Asia, not the Middle East. Therefore, the United States of America does not know Middle Eastern education as much as Russia, France, and the United Kingdom.

While the UK, Russia and France have long records in the Middle East and are not as hated by the Muslim rulers of the Middle East as the United States.

To be frank, the Muslim rulers of the Middle East know this truth and for this reason, they consider the responsibility of all the problems and failures of their policies to be caused by the existence, presence and domination of the United States of America.

The support of the United States of America to Israel as a strategic ally has angered the countries of the Middle East.

They consider Israel's failure in this matter to be the failure of the United States of America, and it is no secret that Russia and China are fanning the flames of this anger so that this fire does not go out.

Iran, Turkey, Qatar and Saudi Arabia are very willing to get the US out of the Middle East once for never come back.

Interestingly, some of the traditional members of the Democratic Party of the United States of America are still trying to push this "wheelless car" in accordance with the ancient policy of "masochistic diplomacy with Muslim rulers and keeping the enemy under their wing".

I see many members of the American Republican Party, like the pan-Iranists, who are so immersed in their American dreams that their world is as big as the territory of ancient clans, and their sphere of thought is as big as the pastures and fields of their tribesmen.

In the olden days, the westerners called the eastern people tribalists, but now they have this problem.

Sorry! I understand what I am saying, I have not deviated from the topic of the article. I am writing this so that everyone can understand how the political scene is today.

I want to say that the United States of America should make a coherent and strong decision with a plan. This confusion in the speech and behavior of the American government is not acceptable. He says that he will do anything to make everyone happy with him. But in fact it is not.

The government of the United States of America has always satisfied the autocratic governments of the Middle East.

It has been following this policy for many years. Both of the American Parties follow this policy.

I remember a few years ago I wrote that the United States of America is not the police, so the politicians of the Middle East should behave wisely.

The day after that article, I saw to my amazement that Mr. President Trump said that America is not a policeman and wants to leave the Middle East, and to my utter disbelief, I saw that he quickly told the Turkish regime: that it is okay you can go into Kurdistan-Syria because the interests of the United States of America in preserving the oil wells are there, not the Kurds, and we saw Erdogan commit all those crimes in that region with the passion that only a disgusting hyena can have.

In the other hand , What was strange was the strong and quick reaction of the US government in condemning the bomb explosion of Kerman. I think the White House should not have sympathized with the Iranian regime in such a hurry. Because both the Iranian regime and the families of the victims of this incident do not accept the sympathy of the American government. Because they had gone to Qassem Soleimani's grave to honor him.

Those who were killed were supporters of Qassem Soleimani, who was killed on the orders of the President of the United States... The day of the bomb-explosion was the anniversary of the killing of the great terrorist Qassem Soleimani. This is not politics. This is not even hypocrisy. This is masochism and self-doubt and fear. I love the United States of America when it is strong, steadfast and majestic and loyal to its friends...

I am saying this so that the White House and the United States Congress are serious in supporting their strategic ally, Israel, and do not fear anyone or any threat.

I was surprised when I saw the former White House hastily sympathized with the victims of the bombing incident last week in Kerman. The White House without waiting to see where the statements of the Iranian regime when will finally stop declared its position.

Because from the moment of the explosion until today, there have been several announced narratives about this. We still don't understand what happened, but the White House, which has put the events under verification and thinks about every issue for a while, why did it this time hastily sympathize with the government, the people, and Iran?

Is the US government ashamed of the death of a terrorist named Qassem Soleimani at the hands of its army? I am sorry if the current American authorities are ashamed of this. If they are ashamed of this action of Mr. Trump and his government, they should know that if Trump has done one right and humanitarian thing in his whole political life, it was to kill Qassem Soleimani and Mahdi Muhandis, And if he did the biggest unforgivable act, it was betraying the Syrian Kurds.

I repeat again, if the American officials are ashamed of killing Qassem Soleimani, I advise them to resign and join charitable organizations and dedicate their lives to the eradication of malaria and yellow fever.

Ever since I can remember, the United States of America has been condemned by the Iranian regime, various parties, and other Middle Eastern regimes and their parties on every issue and occasion.

The United States of America must act like an eagle. When the eagle gets old, it breaks its nails, feathers and beak to young again.

To create a new world order with security, a fundamental change in the United States of America is inevitable. I personally respect this country, but I am sorry to say that I see this country in such a state.

To be frank, the United States of America represents white supremacy to countries with a colonial history, not Holland, Great Britain, France, Germany, Spain, or Portugal.

This is definitely not my view, but they instill this thought in the minds of Muslim children in the Middle East and Africa:

Parties from the right to the left and the totalitarian governments of the Middle East and Africa spread this idea, but unfortunately the governments and representatives of the people of the United States in the Parliament, Senate and Congress do not take any action to thwart this action. When they fail in an idea, they go back and start again from a wrong method to reach the next failure.

I return to the issue of The Hague Court:

The complaint of the South African government against Israel in the Hague Court in the Netherlands is more to gain historical prestige for this country.

Because the Netherlands was the first country to colonize South Africa. I didn't get this from Wikipedia. I have read this topic in the book since the sixth grade. So South Africa freed from apartheid now has an opportunity to show its strength and remind the Dutch of the bitter past.

The incident of October 7th and the Israeli army's attack on the Gaza Strip gave everyone an excuse to quietly erase the past for their own benefit. But the past is recorded in the memory of history.

In any case, the South African regime, which now presents itself as the supporter and savior of the people of Gaza, is itself the prime suspect in the incident of the Islamic State of Sudan's invasion of Darfur and the genocide of Christians at the hands of the Janjaweed camel riders.

Because now he allows himself to come to The Hague and complain about Israel under the name of a victim of apartheid. But as a human being and a Kurd, I look at this action with skepticism and doubt because when the people of Darfur were brutally killed, this regime did not take any action. In fact, it was silent... why?

In the case of Ethiopia in recent years, in the case of the Caucasus and the migration and killing of Armenians in 2023, in the case of the Rohingya Muslims, in the case of Russia's invasion of Ukraine, in other cases of this country, which is hidden under the mask of "former victim of apartheid", it has been silent, why?

I raise this question again and ask the South African regime: In Africa, Darfur, a great genocide called the killing of Christians by the hands of Muslims took place, and all Muslim countries and their leaders, including Iran, supported it. You, who were victims of racism, why didn't you support your fellow human beings? Why didn't you protest against Turkish President Erdogan who visited Darfur and called the Janjaweed camel-riding terrorists heroes and ghazis of Islam?... and where was the South African regime when Bashar al-Assad killed 500,000 of his own people, or when the crimes and killings happened in Yemen?

Which religion is as holy as the blood of an innocent?

Which fool and madman considers "religion" purer than the blood of an innocent and the tears of a helpless and terrified child?

If I find that madneess, I will punch him in the mouth so that he falls on the floor in front of me and licks my shoes.

Because whoever considers religion to be purer than human dignity is a criminal and should be disrespected and humiliated to remember that human is authentic and honorable "with human dignity", not "with the slogans of madmen and delusional people".

The great God, who is the creator of thought and has wisdom, created concepts out of his love and wisdom. In balance and stability. He has mercy and love. He has taught us to be fair and honest and to report what we see and not what we like to see.

Because many people see what is happening with their own decision: because they either close their eyes to it or turn away so that if they ask him, he will easily say, I did not see! This is a lie and the liar is guilty. So the testimony of a liar is never valid.

So in conclusion, the South African regime is a liar and his testimony is not valid.
