

Enlil message about thieves

Written by Azad Karimi

“I am only four fingers away from you!”

In early September 2023, Izad Enlil, who is known as the angel of Izrael in the Jewish religious culture and other Abrahamic religions after Judaism, along with Izad Suriya, who is known as the Izad Raapar, appeared to me. Raapar or Raabar in Kurdish means charioteer. His name in the religious tradition of Jews and Christians is Raphael.

It was a miracle. Izad Enlil was a very beautiful and well-dressed man. I have never seen a man as handsome and stylish as him. He had a bow in his hand. He shook my hand and only said: I have personally come to the ground to handle the case of thieves. My message to thieves is this: I am only four fingers away from you.

When the manifestation is over. I was happy and published this news on my Facebook.

We live in very difficult and complicated times. Because the boundaries between lies and truth are unclear. Now it is covered up the facts under the pretext of maintaining balance, and censorship and false testimonies have taken the place of true and correct words.

Journalists have become news commentators instead of just being narrators of events, and instead of interpreting what they have heard, commentators use their imaginations and minds and add their mental stories to the truth of the news and mislead people and push people lead to false hopes and fears.

But I don't know why Enlil God chose me and appeared to me.

I have a duty to announce this message. And I did it.

Glad I did it the same day. Now I will archive this text that I have already published in Kurdipedia so that it remains there as a memory.

I should also add that, based on this holy revelation, I published a poem called Farashgart( Resurrection for Justice), which is available in Kurdipedia.

Thank you, Azad Karimi
