I am amazed by God's wisdom about creation. I mean, I have no answer for that.
If there is life, why is there death?

So much deep and passionate feeling, so much excitement to live and love, those eyes full of hope and that voice full of romance has now joined immortality....

I don't want to be sentimental... I'm not too sentimental, but I watched the last seconds of this performance by the legendary Charles Aznavour with many tears in my eyes.
